

Thought For the Day

Many of life's failures are people who did not realize how close they were to success when they gave up

Thomas A Edison