

“When nothing else will change for the better, change your thoughts for the better. And you’ll soon see everything else following positively along.”

Author Unknown